Lieut. Don Greelis Going to Alaska for Erection of Air Center

Lieut. Don Greelis, commanding officer of the Cucamonga CCC camp for the past two years, has been ordered to Alaska to be in complete charge of construction of an army air post 40 miles from Ketchikan, a short distance from the boundary between Alaska and British Columbia.

The post will be located at Metakatla, and a full year will be required to construct the post.

Going with Lieut. Greelis will be four officers, 16 foremen, who are expert woodsmen, and 400 picked CCC enrollees.

Going with Lieut. Greelis from the Cucamonga camp will be Edward Nail and Eugene Smith, enrollees from Ontario, and Donald Wonder, first sergeant, who will continue in the same capacity in Alaska.

With instruction to take food for one year, building materials to erect 10 barracks, two mess halls and two supply rooms, a huge task confronts the Cucamonga camp army head.

Before his departure today, Lieut. Greelis said: "Please express my appreciation to the people of Upland for their kindness to me during the pleasant two years that I have spent here."

Lieut. Greelis has been in CCC work for five years. He is a graduate of U. S. C.

The bus, if used, will take passengers direct from the local chamber office to the Pilgrimage theater and return.

Appointment of the Upland Housing Authority is announced today by Mayor D. J. Cameron. The commission includes G. A. Hanson, Paul Schowalter, W. C. Scheu, Everett Henry and Dr. Lilian F. Baxter.

Named as chairman is G. A. Hanson, pioneer resident of Upland, who was one of the early developers of the colony, coming here more than 50 years ago.

Mr. Hanson, one of the leaders in the movement to improve housing in Upland, and the spokesman for the citizens' group appearing before the city council, has been appointed to serve for four years.

Mr. Schowalter is also appointed for a term of four years. One of Upland's public-spirited citizens, Mr. Schowalter is a well-known citrus grower. A year ago Mr. Schowalter resigned as leader of one of Upland's Boy Scout troops, after having served in that capacity for 15 years. He came to Upland from Tulare.

Appointed for three years is W. C. Scheu, well-known orchard heater manufacturer, and also a leading resident of Upland for many years.

Named to serve for two years is Everett Henry, ranch superintendent for a large citrus company for many years and a man with a wide and sympathetic knowledge of the part that the workers in the citrus industry play in the community.

Dr. Baxter, also a long-time resident of Upland, has taken an active part in civic affairs, having served on the city planning commission. Dr. Baxter also has been engaged in social service work as a county department chairman for juvenile delinquency study and is prominent in city and county club work.

The chairman of the commission will call a meeting of the committee immediately to meet with Peyton Stapp, research chairman from regional office of the United States Housing Authority in San Francisco. Mr. Stapp will confer regarding the housing survey, now being completed, in an effort to determine the housing need for Upland and outlying area.

Plan for the formation of a West End unit of the San Bernardino County Republican Assembly is meeting with wide approval among Republicans here and a large attendance is expected at the organization meeting to be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the Upland American Legion club house.

Officers of the county organization, who are expected to be present to assist at the local meetingfi are Leo Thayer, president; Frank L. Whitelock, vice-president; John S. Berry, secretary, and C. S. Corkham, treasurer.

Allan S. Barr of Upland and Wm. N. Graber of Ontario, directors in the county group, are active in arrangements for the organization of the local unit.

The San Bernardino county group is a part of the California Republican Assembly and local units are being organized throughout this and all other counties.

In a statement issued by the county officers, whose headquarters are at 459 Fourth street, San Bernardino, the purpose of the organization is set forth as follows:

"The Republican Assembly does not aspire to be the Republican party. It is a forceful, constructive group within the Republican party, working with other groups of like ideals. Within its own ranks, the assembly welcomes alike the experience of age and the fresh energies and ideas of youth. Particularly welcome are the women voters, so effectively asserting themselves in modern political affairs."

UPLANDER'S LIFE SAVED FROM SEA IN HOUR'S BATTLE

Dr. T. T. Ackerson and Mrs. Muriel Hodgin Rescued At Long Beach

Dr. Truman T. Ackerson, 305 East Ninth street, today considers that he owes his life to the fact that he refused to become panic-stricken when he was almost dragged out to sea at Long Beach last Sunday.

While Mrs. Ackerson, who does not swim, was watching her two nieces on the shore last Sunday, Dr. Ackerson and his wife's sister, Mrs. Muriel Hodgin (formerly of Upland but now of Long Beach) were enjoying the surf.

They were out only waist-deep when Mrs. Hodgin suddenly told Dr. Ackerson that she could not touch bottom. Soon Dr. Ackerson found himself in the same plight. Their efforts to swim to shore or to ride in with the waves proved unavailing. Exhausted by their unsuccessful struggle, they called to bathers nearer shore to notify the lifeguards. At the same time they said to each other, "Now we must keep calm and not lose our heads."

Even the seasoned life-savers could not bring the two victims to shore because of the rip-tide, so they signalled the on-shore guard to notify the Seal Beach motor boat patrol to come to the rescue. Lifeguards had taken life-saving equipment with them, so while the boat came from Seal Beach the victims did not have to keep afloat by their own efforts.

An hour was required to finally rescue Dr. Ackerson and Mrs. Hodgin.

Between 40 and 50 persons were rescued from the rip tide at Long Beach last Sunday the Ackersons were told.

One Family Lives In Two Houses in Separate Counties

One family living in two houses in two counties is the unusual situation existing at a point where the Upland and Claremont city limits adjoin.

Although there are no married children in the family, the family has erected two separate houses—one on each side of the line.

Asked the reason, the mother promptly replied: "We wanted our children to go to Claremont school. It is so much nearer than is the Upland school."

Both homes are furnished. Culinary department, however, is located in the Upland house, but laundry work is done on the Claremont side.

NURSERY SCHOOL PIONEER RETIRES TO HEIGHTS HOME

Miss Florence Fisher, who 28 years ago pioneered as the founder of the first day nursery school in Long Beach, is this month starting her permanent residence in San Antonio Heights, Upland.

Sixteen years ago, Miss Fisher purchased a home on Vista drive, San Antonio Heights, and since that time she has been a vacation and week end resident here.

On July 31 Miss Fisher bid boodbye to the 200 children who now crowd the three schools and recreation centers in Long Beach, providing supervision for children of working mothers. In sharp contrast was the well-established program, financed by the city community chest, to the three pupils 28 years ago who comprised the first class taught by Miss Fisher.

Coming to California on leave from her work as elementary and adult teacher in Chelsea, Mass., Miss Fisher found her life work when the associated charities of Long Beach asked her to undertake the task of caring for children who needed supervision when their mothers were employed.

"The humanitarian side of my work had always interested me most in the east," recalls Miss Fisher, in explaining why she so gladly accepted the challenge in the nursery school work.

In Long Beach the parents pay 10 cents a day for care of their children. Trained, graduate teachers supervise the children in their three well-equipped locations.

A native of Maine, Miss Fisher was graduated from the Maine Normal school, now the State Teachers college.

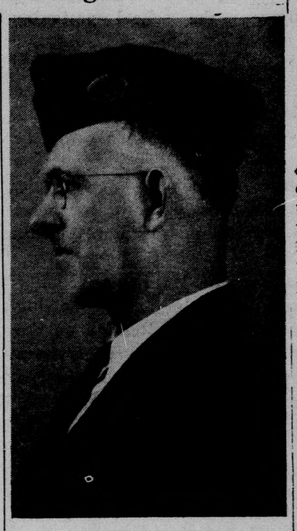

But now, after devoting a lifetime to providing recreation for others, Miss Fisher is free to pursue her own recreation program. At her garden, which includes as one of its features a collection of rare desert plants, Upland's new resident plans to enjoy a well-earned vacation.

BLOOD AUTHORITY ROTARY SPEAKER

Dr. R. B. H. Gradwohl Tells Of Advancements Made In Recent Years

One of the nation's most outstanding students in the study of blood told Upland Rotary club members and guests at noon today of the outstanding progress made by laboratories in this field in recent years.

Author of several books, recognized authority as a haemotologist, Dr. R. B. H. Gradwohl of St. Louis was the speaker. He was introduced by Dr. A. A. Aita, superintendent of the San Antonio Community hospital.

Present as guests were the doctors making up the local hospital staff and the local hospital laboratory technicians, and other persons in the community.

In analyzing blood in crime detection, Dr. Gradwohl told in detail of the various steps leading from finding a blood stain to linking a criminal.

Blood can be classed into groups such as "A", "B" and the like, and this fact is important in deciding one's parentage in questionable cases, according to Dr. Gradwohl.

"I have a particular affection for a dead body," the speaker remarked in telling of his early experiences as an autopsy student. Educated in Germany, Dr. Gradwohl said that many German students specialize in analyzing autopsy cases.

GAS TAX CHECK FOR $2,426 CITY SHARE

Improvement Sum for Next Half Year May Be Increased

Upland's share of the gasoline tax money for the half year ending June 30, received yesterday, amounted to $2,426.28, according to Owen E. Atwood, city treasurer.

Designated for improvement of certain roads within the city, the funds are allocated according to census population figures.

Probably the next check for street funds from gasoline taxes will be considerably more than sums received heretofore if 1940 census figures are used as the basis.

Upland's official 1940 census showed an increase of 31.9 over the population ten years ago. However, this figure may be boosted if a recheck of the city's population is made, following a request for the city manager to seek such a check, at the last city council meeting.

CAL-AERO SCHOOL SEEN IN PREVIEW

52 Cadets Present When Air Training Project Is Opened Monday

Cadets are in the air today and they will be in the air every day for weeks and months to come.

More than 200 interested individuals and 52 army cadets were at the 375-acre Cal-Aero corporation school grounds yesterday morning when C. E. Grier, chairman of the county board of supervisors, formally opened the project.

Visitors were given glimpses of the administration building, four large barracks, a large class room building, mess hall, other facilities and the hangars. Then the cadets occupied the planes along with the instructors and the air was dotted with planes.

"As chairman of the board of supervisors of San Bernardino county and as our contribution to the national defense program, I declare this airport open," Mr. Grier said in the brief ceremonies.

Major C. C. Moseley, president of the Cal-Aero corporation, was highly commended by Mr. Grier. Major Moseley personally assisted in escorting the visitors in the "preview."

A public inspection of the "largest primary cadet training school in America" will be held next month.

In the meantime the 26 new army cadets and the 26 cadets from West Point will receive instruction in flying. For 10 weeks the students will participate in an intensive course. Later another "class" of cadets will be assigned here.

Facilites of the school can accommodate more than 600 cadets and that number will be reached gradually.

Members of the county board of supervisors and representatives of many civic organizations in the Chaffey district were present for the preview yesterday.

PUBLIC MEETING HELD ON QUESTION OF EUCLID TRACK

Commercial vs. aesthetic value of Euclid avenue was the question discussed at a public meeting in the city hall last night. At issue was the possible removal of the Pacific Electric freight spur from the avenue. Mayor D. J. Cameron presided and the councilmen were at their places around the discussion table.

No action was taken by the city council after spokesmen for and against the track removal were heard. The council meets again August 15 when the matter may be presented for action.

It's worth a lot of money to the citrus industry to have two competitive freight lines—the service is better, according to L. R. Bradley, manager of the Upland Lemon Growers association. A similar expression came from Earl H. Johnson, manager of the Mountain View Fruit association.

E. C. Rosenberger, manager of the Upland Heights Orange association, also argued for retention of the freight spur.

"LEVER" IS NEEDED

In the presence of representatives of the Santa Fe and Pacific Electric, the citrus managers emphasized that if a "lever" is over the railway companies—one line being compared with the other one—service is much more satisfactory.

Express purpose of the meeting was to hear why the citrus association managers opposed removal of the track. The managers were reticent about expressing their views at the outset but soon they talked frankly and repeatedly emphasized the importance of competition in service.

Views of the managers, however, clashed with expressions of half a dozen other interested individuals, who pointed out that the Pacific Electric franchise on Euclid has expired, that the P. E. president promised to remove the track, that it is possible for the P. E. freight to be handled in cooperation with the Santa Fe over the Fifth avenue connection, that the freight spur mars the famous avenue's beauty and that maintenance of the spur prevents further improvement of the avenue.

ILLEGALLY ON AVENUE

E. J. Mitchell, 221 South Euclid avenue, fervently pointed out that the city council is on record ordering removal of the track, that the P. E. is operating without a franchise on Euclid and that it is possible for the P. E. freight service to be obtained without the Euclid spur. Mrs. Ella Wise, South Euclid avenue, who was active in getting a delegation to attend from South Euclid, expressed the belief that a majority of people favored removal of the track.

W. F. Rugg, who is one of the proprietors of the W. F. Rugg Lumber Co., was asked by Mayor Cameron to express his views and he replied: "A lot of money has been spent in beautifying Euclid avenue and I believe that if the track was out the avenue would be more attractive and further improvements could be made."

"KEEP HIS PROMISE"

Mrs. L. R. Weller expressed insistence on "getting those tracks out." A representative of the Pacific Electric offered regrets that O. A. Smith, the president, was not here and said he would take back any message to him.

"Tell him to keep his promise," Mrs. Weller said, amid laughter and applause.

G. A. Hanson, Harlow S. Wilson, William Mason, John L. Jeffery, Jack Newsam and Robert Willey were among others who spoke of the avenue's beauty and the necessity of making Euclid avenue a one-way traffic thoroughfare was also cited, and the speakers said this was impossible as long as the Start of a New Industrial Era Here

Opening of the Cal-Aero corporation flying school on the South Euclid avenue site means the actual start of a new development in the Chaffey district.

Not only is establishment of the school here a factor in a new industrial era, but with the school also has come a more alert attitude on the part of many officials and private individuals.

The San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors has played a very important role in bringing into realization the Cal-Aero project. It was very fitting for C. E. Grier, chairman of the board, to formally open the school yesterday morning.

While the Cal-Aero school is being established here now as the result of the national defense program, there is a guaranty that when international affairs become more calm, the Curtis-Wright Technical Institute of Glendale will be moved to the Cal-Aero site. So, in peace or in war, the South Euclid avenue site is assured of a busy work schedule.

Today this area is ready for more payrolls, for more enterprises that will produce wealth, more improvements and more industrial activity.

In the Los Angeles district are, no doubt, many industries, small and large, that need new factory sites. Coming of the Cal-Aero will in itself center more attention on the industrial possibilities in this area. The county supervisors are intensely interested in bringing more payrolls to the county. The various chambers of commerce also are more alert. Many people and agencies realize the possibilities for a more rapid development.

And so the Chaffey district will go ahead.

Judgment Day

In a democracy, election day is judgment day—the day on which we judge the men who have served us, and those who would like to serve us. In another sense, it is judgment day for every citizen—the day when we must stand muster on our citizenship.

During bygone years, careless citizens have gone fishing on judgment day; thoughtless citizens have gone to the polls unprepared and cast hit-or-miss ballots. Far too often, we have been heedless of the tremendous responsibility that popular government places on every individual who cherishes the privileges of a great democracy.

But we can no longer afford lazy citizenship, either in California or in the nation as a whole. California's primary election on August 27 should bring every voter to the polls, determined to use his best judgment to aid his community, his state and his country in a period of crisis.. And the time to get prepared for that election is now. We need to know the men who serve us, and the men who wish to serve us. We need to know their records and weigh them carefully. Let's not only vote at our August 27 primary; let's get prepared to render sound judgment and vote intelligently.

Ten Billions for Defense

The latest naval appropriation brings to more than $10 billion the sum made available for the gigantic defense program for the current fiscal year. But appropriations have a long route to run before they become battlewagons and tanks, submarines and anti-aircraft guns. They must first pass the clearing house of the National Defense Commission which awards the work to industries, makes the contracts, recommends purchase of strategic materials and expansion of vital manufacturing plants. The public has a vital stake in the progress of the rearmament program. It should be kept fully informed of the work of the National Defense Commission. Either a weekly or monthly work sheet of progress from that Commission is essential to keep the nation accurately posted on how quickly those appropriated billions are being turned into the ships, planes and weapons of defense.

Dr. Baxter Decides Not to Make Trip To Canada

Having been advised of the difficulty encountered by those who attempt to enter the United States from Canada. Dr. Lilian F. Baxter has canceled her railway reservations for a trip to Canada.

Dr. Baxter had planned to visit her sister and other relatives in eastern Canada and was scheduled to leave tonight.

However, when she learned how difficult it would be to return to the United States, she decided it would be much better to remain at home.

Dr. Baxter was given a delightful farewell dinner Sunday evening when her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cleland F. (Billy) Baxter entertained at the Newport Yacht club. She also was presented with a number of handsome gifts.

Members of the dinner party were Dr. Baxter, Mrs. Roswell R. Brownson, mother of the hostess; Mr. and Mrs. Beecher F. Hungerford and Mr. and Mrs. Baxter.

Although Dr. Baxter is greatly disappointed in not being able to visit her sister, still she says she is glad to know the government is taking such stringent methods in its efforts to apprehend or exclude from this country all "fifth column" agents.

In order that all may have just the kind of steak they prefer, each one is to bring her own steak. Mrs. Plum and her committee are to arrange for the accompanying dishes.

The club members are being reminded that this is the time when each one is to bring her 50c and tell in what way she earned the money—which must be in some way other than her regular employment.

This money is to make up the club's share of the expenses for the national biennial convention to be held in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Gilliland will conduct the board meeting and the remainder of the time will be spent socially.

Miss Caryl Alice Kilbourne Becomes Bride of Fred Thomas Shelton in Wedding Held In Upland Methodist Church

In the sanctuary of the Upland Methodist church, the Cathedral of the Foothills, Miss Caryl Alice Kilbourne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Kilbourne of San Antonio Heights, and Fred Thomas Shelton, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Shelton of Pomona, were united in marriage at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Aug. 4.

For the occasion the church was beautifully decorated, an all white motif being employed. On each side of the chancel gate, where the single ring ceremony was performed, stood large baskets of gladioli, stock and carnations, all white, and tall candelabra bearing white cathedral candles. Other bouquets of the white flowers were placed within the chancel, with potted palms providing a background of greenery. In the window alcove at the end of the choir loft a tall basket of the favored white flowers and a white candelabrum bearing lighted candles stood behind the altar, at which the couple knelt for the benediction that concluded the ceremony. Attached to the pews were clusters of gladioli tied with bows of white satin and maline ribbon. Dr. Samuel Hughes, pastor of the church, was the officiating minister.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. George W. Cassell, church organist, played a group of selections, including "Calm at the Night" (Bohm), "Liebstraum" (Listz) and "Ave Maria" (Schubert). Two violin solos, "At Dawning" (Cadman) and "Oh, Sweet Mystery of Life" (Herbert), were played by Paul Maitral of Ontario, and the vocalist, Mrs. Ruth Jenkins of Pomona sang "Until" (Sanderson) and "Ich liebe Dich" (Grieg).

The traditional marches, the "Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin" as the processional, and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the recessional, were played by Mrs. Cassell.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a princess style wedding gown of white brocaded satin, fashioned with long train, and with it she wore a long veil of soft net trimmed with lace falling from a halo cap held with a band of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias centered with a white orchid and tied with large bows of white satin ribbon. Her only jewelry was a pearl set lavaliere that her mother wore at her wedding.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Luella Kilbourne, who wore a colonial style gown of pink taffeta and carried a fan shaped bouquet of pink stock and sweetpeas.

The bridemaids, gowned identically, were Miss Maryellen Neilson and Miss Louise Shelton, sister of the bridegroom, both of Pomona; Miss Eileen Kendall of Upland and Mrs. Kenneth McCabe of Walnut Park. Each wore a gown of blue taffeta, cut colonial style, and headdresses of blue net centered with sweet peas. Each carried a fan shaped bouquet of stock and sweet peas. Little Miss Paulette Maitral of Ontario, wearing a colonial frock of blue taffeta with rose velvet ribbon, preceded the bride as flower girl. She carried a basket of rose petals. Master Tommy Jamieson of Upland, clad in a white suit, served as ring bearer.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom was Marwin Miller of Santa Monica, while the ushers were Orion McKnight and Leroy Hamilton of Pomona, Francis P. Williams, Jr., of Ontario and Paul McKenzie of Long Beach.

Mrs. Kilbourne, mother of the bride, wore a gown of royal blue lace and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a gown of rose colored crepe. Each wore a gardenia corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception for the 300 guests was held in the church patio. Refreshments were served at a handsomely decorated table, which was centered with a beautiful three tier wedding cake, baked by Charles Wilson of Pomona, a long time friend of the family. The bride cut the first slice of the cake and the guests were served by Miss Eleanor Poe of Ontario and the Misses Bonnie Wyatt and Miriam Pearce of Pomona. Miss Martha Munger was in charge of the bridal book in which the guests' names were recorded.

Mr. and Mrs. Shelton left at once for Catalina, the bride wearing a teal blue light wool suit, with squirrel fur trimming the jacket, and white accessories.

The bride graduated from Chaffey high school and junior college and attended Pomona college in Claremont. She was prominent in Campus activities both at Chaffey and Pomona college.

Mr. Shelton, a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, is enrolled as a student at the Washington State College at Pullman, Wash.

In the latter part of this month Mr. and Mrs. Shelton will motor leisurely up the coast to Pullman, where they both will study at the college, their courses being so arranged that they will graduate together.

Mrs. Allison Shaw, Mrs. Robert Thrall, Miss Peggy Grahame and Mrs. William Hoyt were the hostesses and the party was held at the home of Miss Grahame's aunt, Mrs. Eva G. Moore, 320 North Euclid avenue.

Hemming of tea towels for the bride-elect provided occupation for the group of friends during the afternoon and Miss Jean Kegley delighted the guests with a group of clever readings.

Of special interest was the presentation to Miss Hargrave of a handsome set of pottery in coral and redwood shades.

The hostesses served refreshments late in the afternoon.

Present for the party were Miss Hargrave, her mother, Mrs. Arthur C. Hargrave; her fiance's mother, Mrs. Charles Latimer; Misses Dorothy and Clara Oliver, the latter of Pomona; Miss Velma Wright, Miss Emily Draper, Miss Helen Jean Riley, Miss Phyllis Atwood, Miss Jean Kegley, Miss Mary Harnly, Miss Anieta Rohrig, Miss Shirley Shepherd, Miss Aileen Greear, Miss Lois Jones, Miss Natalie Barton, Miss Gwendolyn Detter, Miss Ann Adams, Miss Estherann Walker, Miss Dorothy Benson, Miss Betty Bowen, Miss Prudence Relph, Miss Mary Ann Frampton, Miss Lynette Grahame, Mrs. Ralph Shaw, mother-in-law, and Mrs. Bess Kitson, aunt of Mrs. Allison Shaw, one of the hostesses; Mrs. Thrall, Miss Grahame and Mrs. Hoyt.

Best Fishing in Country Said To Be Near Needles

"The best place to fish in the whole country is the Colorado river near Needles," says T. Kirk Vernon, who spent a few days last week at the fishermen's paradise, fishing on the Arizona side of the water.

Although the temperature there was 109 and 110 degrees, water was as cold as could be, he reports. The local sportsman says he caught the limit of bass and catfish.

Word was brought by Mr. Vernon that Kingman, Ariz., authorities are seeking establishment of a breeding plant to be located at Willow Beach, below Boulder dam, in order to stock the Colorado river with Rainbow trout.

The new plan which may eliminate the possibilty of trout rearing ponds on the river will provide fish large enough to survive when freed. At the present time fish for planting at Willow Beach are hauled from the Springerville, Utah, hatchery.

J. A. Hiebert Rests Easily After Injury

J. A. Hiebert of 305 East Ralston street, Ontario, who was seriously injured last week in a motor car accident, is receiving treatment in the San Bernardino hospital and is getting on as well as may be expected, according to his daughter, Mrs. T. C. Boshart.

Mr. Hiebert, a well known member of the First Mennonite church in Upland, was sitting on the curb on Euclid avenue in Ontario when a car driven by Jose Talamentez crashed into him, breaking his right leg in three places and fracturing his shoulder.

Although his progress is satisfactory to his physicans, Mr. Hiebert will be confined to his bed for many weeks.

Mrs. Boshart and her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. George Hiebert of Bakersfield, visited Mr. Hiebert Monday.

At the Theatres

AT PADUA THEATER

Mexico of a century ago and today graphically are portrayed in "Hoy! La Familia Rojas!" (Today! The Rojas Family!), unique comedy of a traveling tent show family, just starting a six weeks engagement as a Mexican Players' production at the Padua Hills theatre.

After gaining a glimpse of traveling tent show life back stage, the Padua visitors become part of the play in acting as the audience for the tent troupe's production of a century old comedy by Gorostiza titled, "Contigo, Pan y Cebolla", (A Loaf, an Onion and Thou).

AT PASADENA

Crash of sand and keel, the grinding of timbers of the Loam yacht on a desert isle and playdom was entered by one of its most famous shipwrecks, via James M. Barrie's "The Admirable Crichton", which comes to the Pasadena Community Playhouse Aug. 5-10, as the seventh playbill in the current Midsummer Drama Festival.

Lord Loam and entourage soon find that circumstances alter cases as the admirable Crichton, the perfect butler, is chosen by nature and fitness to rule the island paradise. Crichton becomes king with a majestic cloak. And there is Lady Mary, whose heart increases its beat as the valiant Crichton solves each problem and provides the group with direction in the business of existence.

GAINS SHOWN IN LIBRARY REPORTS

Mrs. Manker Uses Statistics to Reveal Activities at Library

A circulation increase of eight per cent, as compared with last year's circulation, is shown in the annual report for the Upland Public library submitted to the library board by Mrs. F. H. Manker, librarian.

In analyzing the statistics compiled concerning this important civic institution, Mrs. Manker found a 10 per cent increase in the demand for non-fiction—such as history, biography, aviation and science. Interest in fiction showed a much less increase.

The library membership also has increased, 661 new members having been added during the past year to bring the membership in good standing up to 3589. This indicates that a large per cent of the population borrows library books.

BOOK LIST GROWS

There are now on the library shelves or in the hands of borrowers a total of 23,217 books. There also are 5366 pamphlets, 4613 pictures, 181 maps and 753 clippings.

Attendance at the library during the year reached a total of 54,000.

With reference to the details of the work done by the library staff, the report listed, among other things, 616 mailed notices and 1799 telephone calls concerning book reservations and over-time dues. There also were 808 telephoned renewals and 1141 calls for information.

INCOME NOTED

Income to the library through rentals, fines, reserves, etc., reached the sum of $356.90, bringing the special library addition fund to $673.87. During the coming year this fund will be used for painting woodwork, installing lights and new equipment.

In concluding her report, Mrs. Manker said:

"In the resignation of A. C. Reynolds, the library board has lost a most active and valuable member, who has served the board as president almost continuously from the time of his appointment in 1931. His interest in the library, and his knowledge of things pertaining to the work of the library, will be greatly missed by those who have been closely connected with him in the years just past.

RE-ELECT GODFREY A.
ANDREAS
ASSEMBLYMAN
72ND DISTRICT
A MAN WHO MEANS BUSINESS FOR THE TAXPAYERS

FAVORS
Distribution of Gas Tax Funds Direct to Cities and Counties—Allocating Funds to the Cities on a Population Basis
GODFREY A. ANDREAS
ENDORSED BY GAS TAX LEAGUE
WHOSE PURPOSES ARE
To bring about a more equitable distribution of the gasoline tax funds to Cities and Counties and to furnish tax relief to the owner of the "family automobile", which today is being taxed as a luxury instead of a necessity. In addition, the League is committed:
1.—To oppose diversion of gas tax funds to other than strictly street and highway construction and traffic safety and control;
2.—To cooperate with the State Department of Motor Vehicles in reducing cost of operation and increasing efficiency of operation by eliminating duplicating services;
3.—To distribute license plate tax funds to Cities and Counties on a basis of registration of automobiles, such funds to be used for traffic signal control and other traffic protective measures;
4.—To assist all law enforcement agencies in reducing the enormous loss of life and property now prevailing because of lack of funds.
MORE GAS TAX FUNDS TO CITIES MEANS MORE WORK FOR UNEMPLOYED
The cooperation of all voters is urgently sought to make this program a success by supporting candidates for the Assembly who favor the above objectives.
A more equitable distribution of gas tax funds to Cities on a population basis will mean that Cities will be enabled to —Launch work projects for the construction and repair of streets in Cities that now receive inadequate funds for this work.
—Provide employment by means of such street repair projects for heads of families now lacking employment.
A greater share of the gas tax funds will lessen the drain on City Treasuries and will further tend to lower local tax rates.
ANDREAS SAYS:
Decrease the "in lieu" tax to $1.00 per $100 F. O. B. price of pleasure automobile when new—with a 20% reduction the first year and 10% per year thereafter.
Allocate one-third of license plate tax to Cities on the basis of population for traffic signals and traffic control.
Allocate 5% of total gas tax funds direct to State, Counties and Cities for additional traffic and crossing officers to reduce the enormous loss of life and property.
Eliminate all duplications of functions which are now being performed by both State Department branch offices and County Departments.
ANDREAS OPPOSES:
INCREASING GASOLINE TAX.
INCREASING AUTO LICENSE PLATE TAX.
DIVERSION OF GASOLINE TAXES FROM HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION PURPOSES AND TRAFFIC SAFETY MEASURES.
